My name is Andreas Karaoulanis. I studied computer science and animation. My current work deals with interactive media design and animated film, including digital and analog approaches. Animations evolve, revisiting of past procedures to achieve new results. Initial graphic elements transform through juxtapositions with sets of sound / music objects, that act as filters, emphasizing the underlying structure and its specific perceptual aspects.

My works were presented in museums in London, Moscow and Paris, as well as in numerous institutes throughout Europe. Over the last years I worked as a freelance event / media artist for various institutions and companies in Berlin.

Berlin Academy of Arts, Eidotech GmbH, Luxoom Medienprojekte GmbH, Ircam-Center Pompidou in Paris and Onassis Cultural Center in Athens are among others some of my clients.
